

Registration of account for EBTIC / KUSTAR / ETISALAT's ~ E-Library Services ~

The education landscape is changing; some have termed it as the “climate change” in education. To keep up with the changing landscape, EBTIC, ETISALAT, and KUSTAR, in conjunction with HUAWEI technologies, are currently conducting an eLibrary trial within the KUSTAR campus, under the proposed EBTIC's intelligent campus (iCampus) theme. The aim of the eLibrary services is to enable the students/staff to be able to read e-resources (such as books, papers, articles, etc) on any portable devices, using their laptops, mobiles, or e-readers, at anytime anywhere. This will not only help to enhance the faculty's teaching program, but also help to transform the students' learning experience.

To facilitate the trial, a bundle of free ebook packages, as well as electronic lecture/tutorial/lab notes would be integrated as part of KUSTAR's eLibrary services. Note that this eLibrary service trial is completely free – no cost will be incurred on the users, including the data traffic charges and the accessing/downloading of these e-resources*. On top of that, there are fabulous prizes, such as iPads, iPhones and much more, to be won by those who take part in the trial – the more active participant you are, the more your chances to win. To participate in this "anytime-anywhere" service, please kindly provide your staff/student information details in the attached registration form for opening your individual eLibrary account. If you have any doubt/query or if you need any further information, please kindly contact eLibrary@kustar.ac.ae.

* Apart from the eLibrary services, the service trial will also be running a ebookshop service. Note that both the eLibrary and ebookshop services are completely free and might share the same ebook catalogues in this initial phase.
